Thirty years after opening its doors, the iconic Malliouhana gets a bright, sparkling update

EVEN BEFORE YOU have that welcome glass of rum punch in your hand, you'll feel the breezes in the open-air lobby of Malliouhana, an Auberge resort, blow your travel stress out to sea. Tiny circular mirrors in the cool tile floor set the sunlight gently dancing, and celestial blue archways frame a scene that's even more shimmering—that of the cerulean Caribbean.

This tropical luminescence defines the hotel's recent makeover, which takes full advantage of its enviable blufftop location overlooking Meads Bay. Everywhere you pause—for fresh-off-the-line catch at Malliouhana's cliffside alfresco restaurant, in its two-tier infinity pool, or on one of three powdery beaches—a burst of light and color is your reward.

The spirit continues behind the mango-colored doors of Malliouhana's 44 spacious guest rooms, where vibrant striped rugs and an eclectic mix of artwork set off pale blue and yellow walls. The effect is both personal and worldly, like the Caribbean hideaway of a stylish, well-traveled friend. Capture that island brilliance with these nine products.
